"The United Democracy of the District of Columbia" gave a banquet and reception to the Hon. William J. Bryan at the Hotel Raleigh in Washington last night and it was attended by a large and enthusiastic assembly; Col. Bryan delivered a long speech in which he defined the difference between the Democratic and Republican parties, and declared that President Roosevelt was not a Democrat but Democratic in spits——The National Drainage Commission held it second day's session yesterday in Baltimore and the features were addresses by Gofford Pinchot, United States Chief Forester, and by C. J. Blanchard, statistician of the United States Reclamation service, the latter declaring that if the swamp area were reclaimed it would add 20 per cent to the cultivable farm lands of the United States the reclaimed land would make a strip 45 miles wide extending from Baltimore to San Francisco——Dramatic scenes marked the trial in Washington yesterday of Mrs. Bradley for the murder of Senator Brown; Dr. Evans, the alienist, declared that Mrs. Bradley was made insane by the wrong and brutal treatment at the hands of Brown, whom he denounced so scathingly that the court had to silence him; another pathetic feature was the testimony of Senator Brown's son——Yesterday was observed at the Jamestown Exposition as Fitzhugh Lee memorial day—Horace S. Davis, a promenent business man of aKlamazoo, Mich. was shot and killed by a burglar early yesterday morning in the presence of his wife——Howard Maxwell, deposed president of the Brooklyn Borough Bank, who had been released from jail on $30,000 bond, committed suicide yesterday by cutting his throat and wrist with a razor——The Isthmian Canal Commission made its report yesterday, detailing the progress of work on the Panama ship canal for the fiscal year; the commission reports that no yellow fever originated on the canal zone this year—In the government's case in New York to dissolve the Tobacco Trust yesterday, R. K. Smith, who has charge of the American Tobacco Company's leaf buying in the West, declared that the company has to compete with several independent buyers.——New York markets: Money on call lower at 3 1-2 per cent, ruling rate about 6, closing and offered at 2; spot cotton 20 points higher, closing steady at 11.40; flour steady but quiet; wheat steady, No. 2 red 1.02 1-2 elevator; corn barely steady, No. 2, 64 1-2 elevator; oats, steady, mixed 52; turpentine quiet 48; rosin quiet, strained common to good 3.65 to 3.70.

Here's to the Philadelphia judge who refused to allow the Hartjes to again monkey with the lid to their divorce racket.

"Tennessee wants a Southern man for President," says the Columbia Record. North Carolina has the man for it if Tennessee can deliver the goods.

Next Thursday is Thanksgiving Day. We should be thankful that our lots have been cast by birth, choice or good fortune in the Good Old North State.

A woman can cure her husband of insomnia by trying to keep him awake long enough to let her know how much he is going to allow her to spend during her Christmas shopping.

In the next Republican National Convention there will be 992 delegates The one who goes there committed to Cortelyou will look like a needle in a hay stack.

Everybody seems to refrain from manifesting surprise over Colonel Bryan's announcement that he will run again if the Democrats want to nominate him for President.

Mrs. A. Rossner, of Goodhue, Miss., on the 20th of November, became the mother of the sixth pair of twins since 1898. She is now the mother of twenty-five children. Mr. Rossner is one man in the cotton belt who is deeply interested in getting 15 cents for his cotton.

The National chairman of the defunct Populist party, gives as the excuse (we don't mean reason) for the reorganization of the party that its principles are being carried out by President Roosevelt. As Rooseveltism is responsible for a great deal, the Pops should not put any more embarrassments on it by claiming it as stolen principles.

The Charlotte Observer remarks: "It is estimated that an inland ship canal from Beufort to Norfolk would cost $35,000,000. Such a canal would be exceedingly valuable to North Carolina-Virginia commerce; i n fact, to the commerce of the South Atlantic section with the world." It would be worth to North Carolina more than it will cost.

GOVERNOR RETURNS

Spoke at Two Points in State Before Reaching Executive Offices at Raleigh.

THANKSGIVING FOOTBALL

All Preliminaries of Norfolk Game Arranged—Talk of the Rate Matter and Meeting of General Assembly.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 26.—Governor Glenn was in his office again today after his trip to Washington, D. C., where he delivered an address before the International convention of the Young Men's Christian Association, having returned by Greenville and Grifton, N. C., where he had engagements to speak. He says large crowds greeted him at both Greenville and Grifton Sunday and Monday. Asked about his plans for this week the Governor said that he would be in Raleigh all the week. "I have work to do here this week" was spoken with a force that implied that he will keep a close watch over the proceedings in the Standing Master's court for further hearing evidence for the State in the railroad rate litigation. This, according to the latest postponement, is to be resumed at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. Among prominent witnesses who have already arrived to be examined for the state are Chairman C. C. McChord, of the Kentucky Railroad Commission, and C. W. Hillman, expert accountant, of Louisville, Ky.

No indications of the plans of counsel for the State in the matter of the extent of the pending hearing are made. Talk continues as to the possibility of an extra session of the Legislature but many of those close to the administration and devoted to the cause of the prosecution of the fight against the railroad further express the conviction that there will be no special session and that the pending cases will be allowed to run their course in the courts to the end, the next regular session of the Legislature to have the advantage of the lights before it afforded by the results of the fight over the act of the last Legislature. The admission is general that the railroads have a proposition which involves an extra session of the Legislature, a condition that is regarded as significant in view of the fact that a threat by the Governor of a special session was thought to have largely influenced the railroads in consenting to withdraw injunction proceedings and allow the reduced rate to go into effect, pending the litigation as to its constitutionality.

The final arrangements and settlement of all points at issue for the great Thanksgiving football game between the University of Virginia and A. & M. College at Norfolk were settled this afternoon and tonight in conferences between representatives of the two institutions, the University of Virginia being represented by Dr. Albert Lefevre, dean of philosophy, and W. C. R. Cock, assistant manager of the University Athletic Council. One of the special efforts in the conference was to insure a good clean game, the purification of college athlectics being especially desired by the representatives of both institutions. There was an enthusiastic mass meeting at the college from 8 to 9 o'clock at which there were many speeches bubbling with enthusiasm for the A. & M. team and its prospects for victory over Virginia. Among the speakers were Governor Glenn, State Auditor B. F. Dixon, State Treasurer B. R. Lacy and others. The A. & M. team is in fine condition and is sure to put up a strong game. The team, accompanied by Dr. Joel Whitaker, as physician in charge, will leave for Norfolk tomorrow afternoon. A thousand or more people will follow on a special train Thursday morning leaving here at 9 A. M.

Sheriff Hunter, of Buncombe county, was here last night to deliver to the penitentiary Ben Postal, a white man, under sentence to serve thirty years for the murder of a cousin named Edwards. He also brought three negro women to serve five years each for shop-lifting.

It is understood that Hon. Ashley Horne will open headquarters in Raleigh next week from which his campaign for the Democratic nomination for Governor will be conducted. The name of his manager is not yet made public.

FOR THANKSGIVING DAY

Great National Holiday Will be Appropriately Observed in Wilmington—Services in Churches. Schools Have Two Days.

Thanksgiving Day, which had its origin way back with the Pilgrim Fathers at Plymouth in 1621, an annual festival of Thanksgiving for the mercies of the closing year, will be appropriately observed in Wilmington tomorrow. It is a legal holiday fixed by proclamation of the President and governors of States, and as usual there will be the usual recession from business for the great annual family festival that the occasion has grown to be. Nearly all, if not quite all the business places in the city will be closed and in all the churches the people will gather in appropriate services in honor of the day. The announcements of these services will be given tomorrow.

The public schools of the city in which there are more than three thousand children will suspend exercises at 2 o'clock this afternoon until Monday morning. This was decided by the committees yesterday and the young folks at the various institutions will have two whole days with a Sunday intervening for rest and recreation. At several of the schools there will be short exercises today in honor of the holiday of the morrow.

As usual Thanksgiving brings visions of field and forest to the sportsman and many of these will spend the day in their favorite pastime—gunning. The annual football game is for other climes than Wilmington, where the college spirit is more uppermost in the minds of the people, but several Wilmingtonians will attend the annual Thanksgiving game between the A. & M. of Raleigh, and the University of Virginia at Norfolk. Both the Seaboard Air Line and Atlantic Coast Line have offered reduced rates for the occasion and a very large attendance is expected. More than a thousand will go on a special train from Raleigh to witness the game.

On Thanksgiving Day a special schedule will be operated on the suburban line by the Consolidated Company. In addition to the regular schedule there will be cars every half hour from 2 to 5:30 P. M., leaving the city and from 2:45 to 6:15 P. M., leaving the beach. There will be no freight car in operation on the day.

PROHIBITION IN MOBILE.

In the course of an editorial the Charleston News and Courier of the 25th says:

"There are communities, however, and we suspect that Mobile is one of them, addicted to the luxury of drinking wines and other strong liquors. In them prohibition by law will not be effective. Mobile is a seaport and, from what we know of its population, the enforcement of prohibition by its people will prove farcical. The intoxicants will be consumed by the people as usual, the law will be set at naught, "blind tigers" will flourish more or less openly, respect for the Courts will be diminished, hypocricy and lying will be promoted and revenues from a business outlawed but not suppressed will cease. The women of Mobile doubtless understand this condition much better than do the women or the Legislators of interior Alabama, and they have not lacked the courage to place themselves on record against the perpetration of a folly destructive both to the moral and substantial interests of their city.

The likelihood that the prohibition law will be observed in Huntsville, Bessemer, Fayetteville and other Alabama towns is no argument whatever that it will be observed in Mobile. A prohibition statute might be effective in the great Mohammedan city of Constantinople, and a failure in the Christian city of Berlin, the views of their respective population differing. In other words, the pity is that the Alabama Legislature has been dominated by a narrow and intolerant sentiment which ignores deep-set characteristics of communities and which, as to matters of eating and drinking, will assert themselves in spite of human statutes.

The Legislatures of Georgia and Alabama have set in motion forces that will retard the immense advance of prohibition accomplished under local option laws and probably their unwise action will call into being an aggressive party to oppose prohibition in the territory which it has won.

A STATEMENT.

Misleading Rumor as to Accident to Mr. Oldham Saturday Night.

The Star has received the following with a request to publish, which is cheerfully done:

"Rumor having gained credence in this city that the accident to Mr. T. B. Oldham, was due to his being in a state of intoxication; this report must have been started either maliciously or through error. Mr. Oldham has been in our employ as book-keeper and office man for a number of years and during this time he has proven himself thoroughly upright, and a man of the highest character, honest, sober and faithful to his duties. Lying in the hospital, in an unconscious state, he cannot resent such charges, so we consider it our duty, in justice not only to his good name but to his family, that we make this statement.

ALDERMEN CONFER

Nearly Four Hours in Fruitless Discussion of Regulation of Liquor Traffic.

NO AGREEMENT REACHED

General Plan of High License and Strict Regulation Considered by Board Until Late Last Night —Closed Doors.

For nearly four hours last night, behind locked doors in the Mayor's office at the City Hall, the Aldermen of the city in conference wrestled with the problem of higher license and stricter regulations as a general plan for the solution of the liquor problem in Wilmington, any plan that might be agreed upon being scheduled to be adopted at the regular meeting of the Board next Monday night and to take effect the first of January upon the granting of renewals of license for the six months ensuing that date. No one was admitted to the conference save the Mayor, City Attorney and Aldermen and after it was all over it was stated to newspaper men who had been standing at the door from 8 until nearly 12 o'clock, that nothing had been agreed upon; that evidently the whole plan had failed.

All members of the Board were present except Mr. Rathjen, who was recently so deeply bereaved in the death of his son. The plan is understood to have involved an increase of the yearly license of all saloons from $600 to $1,000 per year city tax; the closing of all saloons between the hours of 10 at night and 6 in the morning and the granting of no license whatever to fifteen or sixteen bars now largely in the residential portions of the city. It seems that upon entering the conference it was agreed to discuss the various features of the plan outlined, vote upon each to get the sentiment of the Board and then later, if an agreement was reached, to vote upon the whole for ratification at the regular meeting next Monday night. It appears that after discussing first the question of an increase of the license from $600 to $1,000 per year and carrying this by a vote of five to four, the closing hours from 10 P. M. to 6 A. M. was agreed upon, but when the question of cutting out a number of the saloons was reached, there was a wide difference of opinion; in fact so wide was that difference of opinion that the Aldermen finally threw up their hands and agreed to quit.

In view of the developments at the conference, it is expected that at the meeting next Monday night the proposition to segregate the saloons in the down town districts will not be brought up at all. The conference last night was stated by several members to have been an utter failure.

On the proposition for an early closing the hours named above were the result of a compromise between those who favored no change at all and others who were in favor of making the hours from 7 o'clock to 7 o'clock. It is stated the Aldermen who favored no change in the present license were Aldermen O'Brien, Karr, Ellis and Jewell for reasons which they stated. However, in view of the failure of the general plan, it is stated that the vote on the several features will not control the action of the Aldermen as to its features as the proposition was to adopt all of the plan adopted or none.

The conference is said to have been the outgrowth of a movement among the Aldermen for several days to agree upon some plan by which the problem of the saloons could be solved without any unnecessary strife and bickering among the people of the community at a time when they can ill afford to be torn up in strife. It was suggested last night that an effort might again be made to reconcile the various factions on the Board as to this question, but several of the Aldermen stated that this would never materialize. In the deliberations of the conference it is understood that no particular lines were prescribed within which liquor might or might not be sold, but the names of the dealers were submitted and that each was considered separately. The difficulties of an agreement upon individuals rather than lines is easily appreciated by the ordinary person and no surprise was expressed among the few who had "got next" to the conference and anxiously waited developments.

Some have given it as their opinion that high license and stricter regulations would be the surest weapon against the carrying of prohibition in the election next March but strange to say Aldermen, both for and against prohibition were lined up on either side of the proposition before the conference last night.

Chamber of Commerce Meeting.

The Chamber of Commerce will meet this afternoon at 4 o'clock for the purpose of receiving a report of the committee recently appointed to draft a suitable memorial to the late Nathaniel Jacobi. The committee consists of Mr. H. C. McQueen, chairman; Colonel Walker Taylor and Mr. Sam Bear. A full attendance of members is desired.

HE WRECKED DRUG STORE

Young Man Crazed With Liquor or Some Opiate Played Havoc at Jas. M. Hall's Pharmacy Last Night.

Either crazed by liquor or under the influence of some powerful opiate, most probably the latter, Archie S. King, a well known young white man of this city, at one time a member of the Fire Department, last night about 7 o'clock walked into the drug store of Mr. James M. Hall, Fifth and Castle streets, and proceeded to demolish everything in sight. A number of customers in the store at the time took rapid flight and the young man who was serving them behind the counter was none the less precipitate in seeking cover.

From all accounts Mr. King had just come up the street from toward the river, hurling signs and everything else in sight in confusion about the sidewalk. At the front of the store he is reported to have encountered a colored man and felled him to the sidewalk at a single blow. When he reached the store his first act was to pull over one of the large glass show cases, known as a "silent salesmen," completely demolishing it with its contents of perfumery bottles, soaps and such articles. Another in the path of the frenzied man was treated almost likewise while the plate glass in front of another was kicked in. A fancy ice cream table in the front of the store next fell under the hands of the wrecker.

About this time Mr. Hall, who was in the rear prescription room, heard the crash in front and came out. He was met by young King, who had nothing in the world against him, but the crazed man made at him with an iron weight to a pair of apothecary scales on the counter. Mr. Hall immediately closed in on the man and dealt him a blow which floored him. Some one then took him outside, but he soon revived and was making back for the interior of the store when Mr. Owen Kennedy, clerk of the Fifth Ward market and a special officer, laid hands on him in the name of the law. Other officers came as quickly as possible and he was taken to the police station, but it is stated that the combined strength of five men were required to successfully handle him without doing him bodily harm

His eyes were glistening and several in the crowd, including Mr. Hall, gave it as their opinion that he was not drunk. At any rate he gave the community a lively fifteen minutes experience and he would not be quieted after being locked up in the station house until Dr. Charles T. Harper, his physician, came down to the hall and gave him an hypodermic injection of some medicine that quieted him. Fortunately no one engaged in the encounted received bodily injury.

Mr. King ordinarily is a very quiet and tractable young fellow and his friends are at a loss to account for his conduct on this occasion unless it was that he was not himself as stated. He is a man of family and has friends wherever he goes. His actions last night are generally deplored by those who know him.

Mr. Hall estimates his loss in the wreckage, accomplished in the few short minutes, at about $100 and doesn't know why the young man should have singled him out for his depredations. The affair will be investigated in the Mayor's court today at noon if the defendant is able to be brought to trial. The case is one of the most unusual that has occurred in Wilmington in a long time.

HIS FAREWELL SERMON

Dr. James Carmichael Retires From Rectorship of St. John's.

Sunday at St. John's Episcopal Church was an occasion of more than passing interest not only for the people of that parish but for the community at large. It marked the close of a long and most successful career as rector by the venerable and much beloved Rev. James Carmichael, D. D., who retires to become rector emeritus, the active duties of the church devolving upon Rev. W. E. Coxe, of Greenville, N. C., who was recently called to accept the place recently vacated by Dr. Carmichael through resignation sent to the vestry some months ago. The service was the last regular one to be conducted by Dr. Carmichael and there were many of his warm personal friends in the congregation besides those of his own parish. It was a touching service and many reflected upon the long and devoted service of this good man with feelings akin to real grief that they were to part with him in his active charge of the work in Wilmington. It was a source of gratification to know, however, that Dr. Carmichael will remain in Wilmington and will give the church the benefit of his wise counsel and his great knowledge of church affairs.

Rev. Mr. Coxe will be here this week and will conduct the services next Sunday. The Thanksgiving service at St. John's tomorrow will be conducted by Bishop Strange.

The District Meeting.

The committee of arrangements in charge of the Pythian District meeting to be held in this city Monday night December 2nd, was in session last night at Castle Hall and practically completed the programme of exercises for this event. The features of the programme, including an address by Hon. Geo. C. Cabell, of Norfolk, have been previously published.

MR. JOSEPH B. WORTH

Passed Away Last Night After Lingering Illness at His Home in Petersburg, Va.

A NATIVE OF WILMINGTON

Son of Venerable Mr. B. G. Worth and Has Many Other Relatives and Friends Here—Had Been Ill Several Months.

A long distance telephone message conveys to members of the family and a host of friends of his young manhood in this city the sad news of the death of Mr. Joseph Barzillia Worth, a native of Wilmington and a leading business man of Petersburg, Va., which occurred at his home in the latter city last night at 8:10 o'clock after a long illness which followed a stroke of apoplexy suffered the middle of last June. While is was known that the condition of Mr. Worth had been critical for weeks past, the community was not prepared for the announcement of his death and the intelligence will be received with the greatest sorrow by all who knew him. Members of the family in this city will leave this morning for Petersburg to attend the funeral services which will be conducted at Petersburg at an hour to be named later.

Mr. Worth was a son of the venerable and much beloved Mr. Barzillia G. Worth, of Wilmington, and was born here October 16th, 1856. He was therefore, in the 52nd year of his age when he passed away. His youth and early manhood were spent in Wilmington and there are many who remember him and have frequently enjoyed the pleasure of seeing him here upon visits to his old home in this city. He was educated in the schools of Wilmington and at Guilford College, N. C., returning to Wilmington and engaging in business a short time before removing to Petersburg, Va., 26 years ago. There he established the large house known as the J. B. Worth Company, extensive dealers in peanuts and engaged in ice manufacturing. On April 16th, 1878, he married Miss Grace Brink, of Wilmington, and they had lived happily together all these many years. She with one daughter, Mrs. John J. Jones, two sons, Mr. J. B. Worth, Jr., and Mr. W. A. Worth, all of Petersburg, are the immediate members of his family surviving. There are also left to mourn their loss, his father, Mr. B. G. Worth of Wilmington; three sisters, Mrs. George R. French and Mrs. William J. Woodward, of Wilmington, and Mrs. Jacob Weller, of Cincinnati, Ohio and two brothers. Mr. William E. Worth, of this city, and Mr. A. C. Worth, of New York. The sorrowing ones have the tenderest sympathy of a great many friends in their bereavement.

All who knew Mr. Worth speak in the highest terms of his strict integrity, his extreme geniality, his devotion to his family and friends and other attributes which endeared him to all who came into the circle of his acquaintance. The middle of last June when apparently in the best of health he was stricken with apoplexy. A day or two after this affliction he came to Wilmington and remained with his father and members of the family until the 5th of July, when he returned to his home. He was given the most careful attention and the best of medical treatment with the hope of restoring him to his former health, Dr. Chas. T. Nesbitt, of Wilmington, remaining with him much of the time even after he left Wilmington and returned to his home at Petersburg. But all was in vain and he passed away last night at the hour named.

Mr. B. G. Worth, the father; Mrs. George R. French, Mrs. W. J. Woodward, Mr. William E. Worth brothers and sisters of the deceased, and Mrs. William E. Worth will leave this morning for Petersburg to attend the funeral services, which as stated, will be arranged later, contingent upon the arrival in Petersburg of members of the family, all of whom were notified last night of the sad death.

PUT ON PROBATION

Mayor Adopts New Method of Dealing With Chronic Offenders.

When Frank Onslow, colored, of frequent police court record, was arraigned before the Mayor yesterday at noon on a charge of disorderly conduct, he was able to show to the Mayor that for several months he had not been arrested and forthwith it occurred to the trial justice, which was the Mayor in this case, that he would try a new method in dealing with these old offenders, who manifest some disposition to reform. Onslow was sentenced to the roads for thirty days but this sentence was suspended on the negro's good behavior for 12 months. If the confidence is violated before that time, the Mayor told Onslow that he would promptly be sent to the roads for the 30 day judgment, which had just been pronounced.

Jake Faison, colored, for trotting his vehicle around Front and Market streets at a faster gait than a walk, was fined $5 and costs. He was arrested by Officer Leon George Monday afternoon.

IN TIMES OF PEACE.

Many people think that the Red Cross Society confines its operations to times of war, remaining idle and useless in periods of peace, but this is a most erroneous impression. Never is there an earthquake, a famine, a pestilence or any other unusual disturbance of proportions too large to be met by the local resources but that this great relief organization, international in its character and recognized by over forty different nations, hastens to the rescue. In the Chinese famine, the San Francisco and Kingston earthquakes and in every great disaster of recent years the relief furnished by the society was both invaluable and prompt.

Because of the general belief that funds entrusted to its care will be administered with scrupulous honesty and with intelligence acquired from a long and varied experience, the calls of this organization upon the public seldom fail to gain a ready and liberal response.

Furthermore, the Red Cross Society is ever on the lookout for new channels through which to expend its energy and efforts in behalf of suffering humanity.

Evidence of this is furnished by the recent decision of the New York branch to address itself to the question of checking the spread of tuberculosis and of lessening the number of preventable accidents. This is an example which might well be imitated by branches of the society everywhere. It is not risking too much to say that accidents of a preventable nature have in recent years caused more deaths and suffering than any war of modern times, while the ravages of tuberculosis are the greatest known to history. To cut down death roll chargeable to these two causes is a work which may well engage the attention of a relief organization which may be truthfully called the greatest ever known to the world, and whose chief object is to lessen and alleviate human suffering.

SUGAR AND THE TARIFF.

Should the Republican party conclude to tinker with the tariff at the coming session of Congress, which it is almost certain to do, we will have our old friend Sugar in the forefront and may expect to hear a great deal from him. Sugar is one of the very quietest things imaginable as long as he is not touched and remains in his present very agreeable position. Let some one suggest a change of condition, however, and he can be heard throughout the lands, or at least throughout the Senate chamber.

Reference to the great contributions to the Republican campaign fund of 1904 has brought forth comment upon the "sugar" contributions to the campaign funds of 1892. In that campaign, it is asserted that the trust contributed regularly to both parties.

The Washington Post has the following to say concerning the tariff on sugar:

"What are the facts? The McKinley tariff of 1890 put on the free list what the sugar trust bought, and adequately protected what that concern sold. It was the only tariff trimmed exactly to suit the sugar trust people.

"Now, if the Cleveland administration was bought by the sugar trust, how does it come that the Wilson tariff, when it left the House of Representatives, was entirely satisfactory to the administration and entirely disappointing to the sugar trust? But this is an age of paradox, if we may employ that term in common with mendacity.

"Again, when the Wilson tariff emerged from the Senate, the sugar trust was mightily pleased with it, and the President of the United States so filled with vexation that he refused his approval of it, and only suffered it to become a law because of the wool and lumber schedules.

"No doubt the sugar trust hoped that it had both parties bought in 1892. We all know that sugar under every tariff but the McKinley law, has been a mighty revenue producer. Mr. Cleveland stood for a tariff for revenue. Mr. Harrison stood for a tariff for protection."

What the Congress that next monkeys with the tariff shall do with and for sugar is beyond all present or future conjecture.

THOSE SECRET WEDDINGS.

The "Little Church Around the Corner" in New York has long enjoyed a country-wide matrimonial reputation. Actors' trial marriages and all that sort of thing have been frequently made there. Many other weddings for reasons of secrecy have been solemnized there. Recently, however, the pastor has forbidden secret marriages being contracted in the church as he believes that not less than 99 per cent. of these unions result disastrously. Where there may be in one case out of a hundred, a good reason for keeping a wedding quiet the rest of these clandestine affairs, while the excuse may sound plausible enough, had better not take place. When a marriage has to be kept secret, it is in itself a suspicious circumstance.

THE MINISTER'S PAY.

The writer in Judge, in arguing for a clergyman's union, hits pretty near the truth when he says:

"There is ample statistical proof for the assertion that the minister is about the most unfortunately placed man in the community. By education, by profession, by environment, he comes nearer representing the most acute schism between means and desires of any class of people. With tastes refined until only the best things satisfy, and with a purse so limited that only the commonest things are attainable, he is really to be pitied. Ministers ought to dictate the conditions under which they will work. They ought to establish a minimum salary; say, in the smallest communities, an income at least as good as they pay to a bar tender."

—"John, do you love me?" "Yes." "Do you adore me?" "I s'pose." "Will you always love me?" "Ye—look here, woman, what have you been and gone and ordered sent home now?"—Louisville Courier-Journal.

—Kind Mrs. Brown: "Here, my poor man, take this shilling; it may help you to find work." Bill Borntired: "Thank you kindly, lady; just put it in me weskit pocket, will yer, mum?"—Philadelphia Inquirer.

—"Here's a firm advertises for a genteel man, not afraid of good pay, one willing to start at 10 and quit at 3. You have all the qualifications to land that job." "All except the $10,000 to invest in the business."—Pittsburg Post.

—"I am afraid," said Mr. Henpeck, "that I made a fool of myself today." "Don't worry about it," his wife replied: "It isn't likely that anybody noticed anything unusual about the way you spoke or acted."—Chicago Record-Herald.

—"At what hour do you wish the marriage solemnized?" asked the clergyman. "Eight o'clock tomorrow evening," said the caller, twirling his hat in an embarrassed way; "but there ain't no need of being so awfully solemn about it, you know. I'm the clown and she's the lady bareback rider."—Chicago Tribune.

—"Send me some money to get myself out of this trouble," wrote the Prodigal Son, "and I'll promise to begin all over again." "Yes," muttered the Old Man, crumpling up the letter in his horny first. "That's just what I'm afraid you'd do. Didn't expect you to confess it, though."—Cleveland Leader.

The Rise of a Painter.

Only painters looked long at the picture which Eugene Carriere exhibited at the salon of 1877, and for a dozen years afterward, while his portraits and his studies of children and women steadily gained in distinctive character, they puzzled and repelled the unwary, says Henry Copley Greene in the Century. Their merging varied colors in a single tone, their dissolving of sharp contours in smoke hued mist, suggested either insincerity or myopic vision. Yet little by little Carriere impressed first a few artists and critics, then part of the public, then even the ministry of fine arts. In 1889 he was decorated, and in the next year, when his paintings were seen at the then new Salon du Champ de Mars isolated in a single group, Carriere began to be more widely understood. His fervid sincerity reverberating, as it were, from picture to picture destroyed all suspicion of pose, and as his technic grew familiar the sculpturesque solidity of his heads and figures appeared through that mist in proof of his genius of eye and hand.

The Herrings' Heads.

Miracles are not only of religion. Perhaps readers may have forgotten the strange adventure of the great Johann Sebastian Bach. The story was told by Bach himself and is therefore, we may be assured, substantially true. Bach was a very young man at the time. His chief object then was to hear a great organist of Hamburg named Reinken. He was very poor, and on one of these journeys, returning home, he found himself destitute and yet far from Luneburg. So he sat down on a bench outside an inn and tried to dine on the smell of the cooking. Suddenly a window was thrown open above and a couple of herrings' heads fell at his feet. He picked them up and discovered in each a piece of money! He could not find out who his benefactor had been. But he made a good use of the gift, for he immediately tramped back to Luneburg to hear Reinken once more. However it happened, it was a miracle. But Bach was dwelling in the regions of the miracle.—London Academy.

What Barbers Must Know.

The barber spoke indignantly.

"A doctor, a lawyer or a divine," he said, "learns his business in three or four years, and afterward he is wonderfully looked up to. It takes us barbers many, many more years to learn our business, but who is there that looks up to us? On the contrary, we are rather looked down on.

"Yet think of all a good barber must know today.

"He must not only shave and cut hair and trim beards beautifully. He must understand facial massage, singing, hairdressing, undulating, dyeing, wigmaking and switchmaking, and he must also be able to compound pleasant washes and shampoo lotions, massage creams, skin foods, eradicators and regenerators and depilatories—if you know what they are—tonics, oils, brilliantine and shaving creams.

"With all this knowledge why shouldn't the modern barber hold his head as high as any doctor or lawyer or preacher in the land?"—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Quick Fingers.

The dexterity of a modern virtuoso's fingers made a deep impression on an old farmer who was among the audience at a piano recital. Clapping both hands suddenly down upon his knees, he was heard to exclaim, "I'd give $100 to have that man pick peas for me!"

Thanksgiving

Ready for Thanksgiving

Turkey dressing isn't half as important as dressing for the turkey and for the Festive Occasion, when that noble bird is the central attraction. Our business is dressing men and boys—from the Sack Suit for business to clothes for formal evening dress.

We have everything in Apparel that a man could ask for—And it's ready for you at a minute's notice; ready to put on and wear without any more delay than to find your fit and please your fancy.

Perhaps you're somewhat shy on Toggery—A new hat, maybe; possibly needing a handsome tie, new gloves, a dress shirt or the collar and cuff stock needs replenishing, etc., etc.—In fact, if you are wanting anything in clothes or toggery we're at your service with the "best" at a modest price.

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND

LYDIA E. PINKHAM

Is acknowledged to be the most successful remedy in the country for those painful ailments peculiar to women.

For more than 30 years it has been curing Female Complaints, such as Inflammation, and Ulceration, Falling and Displacements, and consequent Spinal Weakness, Backache, and is peculiarly adapted to the Change of Life.

Records show that it has cured more cases of Female Ills than any other one remedy known.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound dissolves and expels Tumors at an early stage of development. Dragging Sensations causing pain, weight, and headache are relieved and permanently cured by its use.

It corrects Irregularities or Painful Functions, Weakness of the Stomach, Indigestion, Bloating, Nervous Prostration, Headache, General Debility; also, Dizziness, Faintness Extreme Lassitude, "Don't care and want to be left alone" feeling, Irritability, Nervousness, Sleeplessness, Flatulency, Melancholia or the "Blues." These are sure indications of female weakness or some organic derangement.

For Kidney Complaints of either sex Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a most excellent remedy.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation to Women

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to write Mrs Pinkham, Lynn, Mass. for advice. She is the Mrs. Pinkham who has been advising sick women free of charge for more than twenty years, and before that she assisted her mother-in-law Lydia E. Pinkham in advising. Thus she is well qualified to guide sick women back to health. Her advice is free and always helpful.

THREE GIRLS OVERBOARD

Lives Lost on Pacific Ocean in a Curious Manner—Playing on Gangway, Amidships, They Are Swept Away by Wave.

San Francisco, Nov. 24.—A curious disaster marked the stormy voyage of the steamer President from Seattle to this city. The vessel arrived today, and reported that on Friday during rough weather, three girls, all under fourteen, were swept overboard and lost. Their disappearance was not noted for some time so there was no chance to save them.

The vesel delayed her departure from Seattle for several hours to allow the gale to subside, but the weather was still rough when she sailed. Off Flattery, Friday afternoon, the sea was high, but the sky was bright.

Florence Buckman, aged thirteen, and Rita and Ada Schotte, aged twelve and four years, were playing in the gangway below the bridge amidships. This gangway forms a kind of natural funnel through which the water pours when the deck is flooded.

It is supposed that a large wave struck the ship and that the water swept the children overboard. One of the crew, who was far aft, thought he saw buckets go overboard, and it was his inquiries that led to the discovery that the children were missing.

The Schotte children had come from Australia with their mother to meet their father, who lives here. Florence Buckman was with her mother and was going from Seattle to Los Angeles.

ARMOUR CUTS MEAT PRICES

Manager of South Omaha Plant Announces Reductions.

Omaha, Nov. 24.—There will be a further drop in the prices of provisions and meats this week, says R. C. Howe, manager of the Armour packing plant at South Omoha.

"Hogs fell yesterday to 4 cents, and the prospects for a rally in the price are unusually gloomy.

"This week the wholesale men and packers will quote a large decline in all packing-house products in the cold storage food supplies. The decline is already apparent in many lines. Eggs, butter, poultry and cut meats will fall under the general decline.

"The decline in the principal staples will not be as pronounced as in live stock, but will be noticeable, however, The demand for the staples is more uniform than for live stock products, and therefore the prices are firmer."

NOTICE! COMMISSIONER'S SALE.

FELL FROM PILE OF HAY.

Negro Named "Caesar" Had Bad Fall to Cement Pavement.

A negro, known by no other name than "Caesar," an employe of Orrell & Alexander's stables, had a bad fall from a wagon piled high with hay as it was being driven into the stables at Third and Princess streets yesterday afternoon about 5 o'clock. The negro was on the topmost bale of the hay as it towered high above the ground and just as the horses drew the wagon in one of the high doors leading from Third street, the colored man saw that the top of the door was not going to clear him. He began scampering back on the high pile of hay to escape the door but before he reached the rear of the wagon, he fell off the pile to the hard granolithic sidewalk below, a bale of the hay falling on top of him. He was stunned for the moment and remained in a stupid condition for some time afterwards but Dr. Chas. T. Harper, who was called to attend him, said that he had suffered a very severe shock, but he did not think his injuries were serious. He was kept at the stables until he recovered from the shock and was sent to his home.

PAWN TICKET 210.

Offering of Four Pickerts at Academy This Evening.

"Charley's Aunt," a well known modern comedy and one that has proven popular for at least the last five years was the Pickerts' offering at the Academy last night and pleased a large audience. The specialties were particularly clever.

Tonight the company will present "Pawn Ticket 210," which is a drama of much strength and fine comedy. Miss Blanche Pickert will appear as the star in the role of "Madge." The specialties will be changed again tonight and will be new and novel. Tomorrow afternoon a big Thanksgiving matinee will be given.

Shot Her Kitchen Up.

Eli Davis, a negro with none too spotless record so far as the police records go, was arrested yesterday morning in Love's alley. He had been firing recklessly into the kitchen of a colored woman with whom he had been living and had shot up the place considerably when the colored woman ran out and summoned Officer J. R. Minshew. He went up the alley to make the arrest and found the negro asleep, dead drunk. He was taken to the police station and locked up for trial both on the charge of being drunk and down and of assaulting the woman with a deadly weapon.

No Races Thanksgiving.

The Wilmington Driving Association is much disappointed that it has been unable to arrange the big matinee at the race track for Thanksgiving that it was hoped to have earlier in the season. There may be a few events of an informal nature on the course Thanksgiving but there will be no regular programme according to the best information that could be obtained yesterday.

New Books for The Library.

The new books for the Wilmington Public Library, more than a hundred in number, have arrived and are now in use. They form a valuable collection of standard works and compose a great addition to the library. With more responses from the general public and an appreciation of the work being done at the library, it would soon come to be second to no library in the State.

LOCAL DOTS.

—First Church of Christ, Scientist, Carolina Place: Services this evening at 8:15 o'clock.

—A permit was issued yesterday to Jennett MacRae to build a one-story, four-room dwelling, to cost $450, on Rankin, between 11th and 12th streets

—George B. Shepard and wife have transferred to H. B. Shepard, for $700, twenty-one acres of land in Harnett township, on south side of Page's Creek.

—The market will be open Thanksgiving from daylight to 10 o'clock A. M. only. Patrons of the place are asked not to forget the hours for the holiday.

—By deed filed for record yesterday Thos. H. Wright transferred to Wm. B. Beery and wife, for $500, property on west side of Sixth, 66 feet south of Nun street, 33x105 feet in size.

—The Literature Department of the North Carolina Sorosis will meet at 4 P. M. today instead of on Thursday, the regular day, on account of Thanksgiving. All members are expected to be present.

—On the strength of advance to 11.40 for spot cotton on the New York market, the local market yesterday was quoted at 10 5-8 cents for middling. Receipts were only 1,416 bales against 2,152 same day last season.

—Tug Standard No. 2, Capt. Dropby, arrived in port yesterday from New York, via Charleston, S. C., towing Standard Oil Barge No. 92 with supply of oils, etc., for the local branch of the company here. She will clear from Wilmington for New York as soon as she completes discharging.

—At the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William C. Marshall, 107 South Fifth street, this afternoon Mr. Joseph Tillman Morgan, formerly of Dallas, Ga., but now of Wilmington, will wed Miss Sudie Helen Marshall, an attractive young woman of this city. The ceremony will be witnessed by a number of friends of the young people.

—Charley Burgwin, colored, charged in Justice Bornemann's court Monday with embezzlement of funds from Union Gospel Trumpeters No. 2, a colored fraternal organization of which he was trustee, was discharged yesterday the "brethren" in the case having withdrawn the warrant. Burgwin was represented by Herbert McClammy, Esq.

—Brooklyn Baptist Church will hold a prayer, praise and Thanksgiving service on Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock. It will be a combined service of the B. Y. P. U. and the regular Wednesday evening prayer meeting. There will be no meeting on Wednesday evening as announced Sunday. All who can are wanted to attend the last service of Evangelist Ham at the First Baptist Church Wednesday night.

—An athletic young stranger marched into the police station late yesterday afternoon and asked Sergeant King if he had any objection to his testing his wheel on the long flight of stone steps leading up to the entrance of the City Hall. Sergeant King replied there was not the slightest objection and the stranger jumped astride his bicycle, rode out of the hall and on down the steps, across the sidewalk, the stone curbing, the ditch drain just beyond and across the street. A number of spectators were amazed at the feat.

—Upon application of Jno. D. Bellamy & Son, attorneys for the Elgin Jewelry Co., of Elgin, Ill., in favor of whom Justice Borneman gave a judgment last August for $80.50 against Mary Joseph, a Syrian woman, an execution was issued yesterday afternoon against any stock of goods the defendant might have on Market street, between Front street and the river. Deputy Piver went out with the paper to close the store of the woman, but when he arrived another Syrian claimed to be in possession of the store and the paper had to be returned.

THE PRINCESS MAY

Synopsis of Delightful Little Play to be Given This Evening.

Tonight and at matinee this afternoon for children the beautiful little drama "The Princess May" will be presented at St. James' parish house as a benefit performance for the purchase of a rolling chair for a little patient at the hospital, whom it is desired to remember in this way on Thanksgiving Day. The little folks in the play will be beautifully costumed and the entertainment in every way will be delightful. It is a most worthy cause and the responses have already been most encouraging. A synopsis of the drama is as follows:

Act 1. Charming Princess May bewails that she cannot run away and play like other children. Nurse explains. Nurse falls asleep and Princess cuts the silken bands and is captured by fierce Goblins.

"Nurse Nap, awake! awake!
Oh Mother dear, your heart will break."

Act. 2. Nurse Nap in presence of King and Queen tells of loss of Princess May. Valiant Knight vows to rescue her and Queen bids him farewell, with

"God's speed Good Knight
A Mother's blessing take
To my sorrowing child,
I love Thee for her sake."

Act 3. Cave of the old Witch. Princess May surrounded by the Goblins. Princess discovers her Brother, whom Witch has turned into a Cat. Arrival of brave Knight who puts the terrible Witch and her Goblins to sleep with the powder the fairies have given him.

"Begin! Begin! Oh fairy spell Sound to the World, the Witch's knell."

Act 4. Rega Court of King and Queen in great sorrow at loss of Princess. Beautiful Fairies arrive and tell of safety of Princess. Knight and Princess safe home again and Queen bestows hand of the beautiful Princess on the Valiant Knight.

"A precious gift I give to you
See that you cherish it most true.
A heart of gold is yours today
For you have won the Princess May."

The public is most cordially invited to attend either or both of these performances.

VIOLETT REVIVAL CLOSES

Three Weeks Meetings Resulted in More Than Ninety Conversions.

The series of revival meetings which have been in progress at the Tabernacle, Seventh and Orange streets, during the past three weeks came to a close last night when Evangelist E. E. Violett, who has been conducting the services nightly, gave a very strong appeal to the unsaved on the subject "Prepare to Meet Thy God." During the three weeks of the services there were more than ninety conversions and the church was greatly built up. Mr. Violett has greatly endeared himself to the people of Wilmington, who have heard him, and there are many who will hope that he will come South again. He leaves Wilmington to accept an engagement in Northern Ohio. The Christian Church in this city, of which Rev. F. L. Davis, is pastor, has more than doubled its membership under the preachings of Rev. Mr. Violett during these three weeks.

Professor Marks, who has had charge of the song service at the meetings, has proved himself a leader of great ability and has contributed no little to the success of the meeting. Mrs. Violett, who accompanied her husband to Wilmington, also contributed much to the winning of souls during the services.

THE RALEIGH CAMPAIGN

Evangelist Ham Invited—Governor Remarks About Wilmington.

(Special tSar Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 26.—Tonight the Raleigh Anti-Saloon League organized for the campaign leading up to the prohibition election December 26th, by the election of W. N. Jones president and raising a campaign fund of $500.

Rev. Mordecai Ham, the prohibition evangelist now in Wlimington, was invited to come to Raleigh and impart the desired impetus to the campaign and in a brief speech Governor Glenn pledged his best efforts for the success of prohibition against the dispensary.

He elicited much enthusiasm by announcing a telegram received from Grifton to the effect that in the election there today not a single vote was cast against prohibition.

He says he had expressed the opinion that Wilmington would never have prohibition until the millenium comes but he believed Rev. Mordecai Ham had brought it there now.

Assessment to a Minimum.

Union printers all over the country have cause for thanks on this Thanksgiving week because of the action of the International Typographical Union in reducing the strike assessment levied two years ago to the minimum of one per cent. The fight was for an eight-hour day all over the United States and the war between employer and employe was waged relentlessly where there was not an acquiescence for the recognition that was desired. The assessment was first ten per., then eight, then seven, then five and so on as the fight laster until the mammoth sum of four million dollars was raised to help the cause. It was a great undertaking and a great accomplishment by the printers of the country, the largest strike fund ever raised by any single body of trades unionists.

To Lay Corner Stone.

The corner-stone of the new house of worship being built at Seventh and Wright streets for Mt. Olive A. M. E. Church, colored, will be laid Sunday, December 1st at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon. Bishop W. J. Gaines, D. D., of Atlanta, Ga., who will be here in attendance upon the sessions of the colored Methodist conference, will be master of ceremonies and the stone will be laid with Masonic ceremonies. A number of visiting lodges of the Masonic fraternity woll be represented at this ceremonial. All are invited to attend the services and white friends of the church will be more than welcome. Rev. J. W. Murph is pastor of the congregation and has labored unceasingly for the rebuilding of the church, which was destroyed by fire recently on Second, near Dawson street.

To Wed This Evening.

A wedding of much interest to a large number of friends in this city and elsewhere will be that of Miss Cora A. Meredith, the attractive young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Meredith, and Mr. Ransey Weathersbee, formerly of Augusta, Ga., but now of popular young man of this city. A number of friends of the prospective groom and bride-elect are here for the ceremony. Members of the bridal party were entertained last evening at the home of the bride's parents, on North Second street.

Methodist Protestant Conference.

The North Carolina M. P. Conference has just concluded most successful annual sessions held at Greensboro, N. C. Among the appointments announced at the close of the conference are: Lumberton, J. A. Burgis; Richlands, J. H. Stowe; Rockingham, H. W. Braswell; Rocky Mount, R. W. Taylor; St. Paul's, C. E. M. Roper; Tarboro, W. G. Bethea.

WILL RECLAIM LAND

National Drainage Commission Listens to Addresses by Glifford Pinchot, and Gov. Broward of Florida.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Baltimore, Nov. 26.—Fully 200 delegates were in attendance at the National Drainage Commission when it assembled in McCoy Hall, Johns Hopkins University for the second day's session today. Besides addresses on the subject of swamp land reclamation the mosquito question was dealt with.

Gifford Pinchot, United States chief forester, dwelt on the relation of drainage and the protection of the low land of the South Atlantic States to the protection of the headwaters of the streams of the Appalachian range. He cited the immediate and urgent need of the protection of the headwaters of the streams which effect that region of the country. He called particular attention to the falling off in the rice culture industry in the Carolinas which, he declared is due immediately to floods brought about by deforestation in the Appalachian mountains. Likewise he pointed out how these floods sweep over the lowlands adjoining the rivers in such volume that no dike or levee can withstand them, and cover the fertile plantation with a deposit of silt brought from above.

C. J. Blanchard, statistician, United States Reclamation Service, declared that this meeting will focus the attention of the country upon a problem the successful solution of which, he contended, means far more to our national welfare than the construction of the Panama canal or the subjugation of the great American desert. The addition of 80,000,000 acres of cultivable land to the farm area would be an increase of nearly twenty per cent. in the total improved area of the farms of the country. The successful drainage of these lands, he continued, would mean the addition to the crop producing area of the United States of a strip of land forty-five miles wide, extending from Baltimore to San Francisco. It would provide homes for 2,000 families on farms of forty acres each. Assuming that the reclaimed areas would have the same relative value, drainage would add $4,000,000 to the taxable property of the people. National drainage, he said, would knit more closely the ties of friendship between the North and the South. It would in no small degree compensate for the frightful ravages of the Civil war and would in a measure simplify a perplexing social problem in the Southern States.

The last work of the Congress, at the suggestion of Senator A. C. Latimer, of South Carolina, was to let the United States Congress enact a drainage measure of its own making, free from any suggestion by the drainage Congress.

Governor N. B. Broward, of Florida, spoke on the "Drainage of the Everglades of Florida," and John A Fox, of Arkansas, on "What has Been Accomplished by the Drainage in the South."

The following officers were chosen for the coming year:

President—Governor N. B. Broward, of Florida.

First Vice President—Dr. James Bosley, of Baltimore.

Second Vice President—W. S. Braddock, Wisconsin.

Treasurer—B. Howard Griswold, of Baltimore.

Additional members of the executive committee: James Cosgrove, of South Carolina: F. J. Buck, of New Jersey, and C. B. Brown, of California.

BATTLESHIPS DELAYED

Will Be Unable to Leave on Time For Pacific Cruise.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Philadelphia, Nov. 26.—The Pacific cruise of the battleships and cruisers of the U. S. navy yard may be delayed. Word was received in this city today that despite night and Sunday work now being done aboard the battleships at Norfolk, it will hardly be possible for them to go to the New York navy yard, be docked, and returned to Hampton Roads in time to sail for the Pacific on the appointed date, December 16.

This seeming delay will have no effect on the plans at League Island, Philadelphia. The commanders of the battleships there, which will participate in the cruise, have received instructions from the Navy Department to be at Hampton Roads December 9 at 10 P. M. The battleships will not leave League Island in a group but will proceed singly as soon as the necessary repairs are completed. The ships and their commanders forming the present League Island groups are:

The Georgia, Captain McCrea, commanding; the Kansas, Captain Vreeland, and the Kearsarge, Captain Hutchings.

These ships will join the five ships at present at the New York navy yard, four at Boston, and three at Norfolk.

Preparatory to their departure to join the squadron at League Island they will give elaborate dances. The enlisted men of the Georgia entertained tonight at the second regiment armory. There will be two big balls tomorrow night and one the following night.

He Fought at Gettysburg.

David Parker, of Fayette, N. Y., who lost a foot at Gettysburg, writes: "Electric Bitters have done me more good than any medicine I ever took. For several years I had stomach trouble, and paid out much money for medicine to little purpose, until I began taking Electric Bitters I would not take $500 for what they have done for me." Grand tonic for the aged and for female weaknesses. Great alterative and body builder; sure cure for lame back and weak kidneys. Guaranteed by R. R. Bellamy, druggist. 50c.

People miss a good deal of fun because they could get it without paying for it.

PICKANINNIES IN AFFRAY

One Severely Cut by Another at Compress Yesterday Morning.

Willie Hines, a pickaninnie not above 13 years of age, was arrested yesterday morning by Policeman I. F. Huggins, officer at the Champion Compress, charged with an assault with a knife upon Richmond Fennell, another young negro of about the same age, who was cut on the arm and back of the head to such an extent that he had to be sent to the hospital for repairs, severely but not seriously wounded. Both boys are employed as sweepers at the compress and while at work yesterday morning, one swept over the other's foot. This is a great breach of propriety among sweepers and words ensued between the two. Hines hauled out his knife and true to the instincts of the criminal of his race, he got busy on the hide of his adversary. The case will be heard before the Mayor at noon today, it having been postponed from yesterday on account of the absence of witnesses.

NEGRO BOY KILLED

Gun Went Off Accidentally in Hands of a White Lad.

Robert Irving, a colored boy, was accidentally shot and almost instantly killed by Earl Orrell, the 14-year-old son of Mr. E. A. Orrell, of Masonboro Sound, late Monday afternoon. The two boys were in a boat in the Sound gunning for duck. The colored boy was seated in the bow of the boat and exclaimed to young Orrell that some duck were flying up in front. He raised the gun quickly to shoot and in some way it caught under the seat of the canoe and went off accidentally, the whole load of shot taking effect in the young negro's body and killing him almost instantly. Young Orrell paddeld the boat to shore as quickly as possible and notified other people of the accident. Dr. C. D. Bell, the coroner was telephoned but after relating the circumstances of the shooting, the informant was told that an inquest was unnecessary and the body might be buried.

MR. OLDHAM RESTING EASILY

Passed a Fairly Comfortable Night With Little Change in Condition.

A telephone message from the hospital this morning at 1:30 o'clock in response to an inquiry as to the condition of Mr. Thomas B. Oldham, who was so severely injured in the accident at the Ninth and Nixon street railroad crossing Saturday night, is to the effect that he has passed a fairly comfortable night and was resting as well as could be expected. He has not yet regained consciousness but the physicians in attendance say that each day he passes with the development of no unfavorable symptoms is in his favor. Many friends are hoping and praying for the young man's recovery. There are many inquiries at the newspaper offices and on the streets as to his condition.

Evangelist Ham's Last Service.

Evangelist Mordecai F. Ham, of Bowling Green, Ky., who has been in the city the past month conducting a series of prohibition and revival services at the First Baptist Church, will be heard tonight at 7:30 o'clock for the last time in the immediate future. All are invited to hear him at this farewell service. He expects to take his departure tomorrow noon for Kentucky and will later go to Raleigh to engage in the fight against the dispensary there. He will probably return to Wilmington two weeks before the prohibition election here.

Broke Jeweler's Window.

Late last night as young Mr. Hunter Watson was passing Honnet's jewelry store on Front street, he was accosted by two young white men one of whom made some insulting remark to him. He went forward to resent the language when one of the strangers threw a pair of plyers at him. Fortunately he was not struck but the plyers crashed one of the windows of the jewelry store. Nothing in the window was broken. Nothing of value is kept on display there at night.

R. K. SMITH MAKES A DENIAL

Says No Secret Agreement Exists Between the Imperial Tobacco Co.

New York, Nov. 26.—Testimony to show that the American Tobacco Company has to compete with the buyers for independent tobacco manufacturers in purchasing tobacco in Kentucky, was given by R. K. Smith, who has charge of the western leaf buying for the company. The evidence was taken in the government's action to dissolve the American Tobacco Company and to restrain the operations of the Imperial and British-American companies, its alleged allies.

Mr. Smith declared that many independent buyers were in the Kentucky field and that all were in sharp competition. The price of leaf tobacco, he said, was fixed by general market conditions.

J. Mac. Reynolds, special counsel for the government, asked Mr. Smith if he, President Duke, or some one else here in New York, did not fix the price to be paid for tobacco.

"I should say not," replied Mr. Smith. "I did not fix the price of tobacco until I saw it in the brakes or market warehouses in Louisville."

Mr. Smith denied the government's allegation that there is a secret agreement or understanding between the Imperial Tobacco Company and the other defendants interested in the suit. He declared that he never bought a pound of tobacco for the Imperial Company nor had that company purchased any tobacco for the American Tobacco Company. There is no agreement between the American Tobacco Company and Dunnington and Company for the purchase of burley tobacco the witness said. The practice of buying tobacco direct from the farmer, he said, was not a scheme to squeeze the farmer, but saved them the cost of packing and shipping while it saved the purchaser from deception.

The outlook for increased consumption of tobacco was not very rosy, he added, as the financial situation decreases the demand and this would reduce the price.

CAMPAIGN CONTRIBUTIONS.

W. J. Bryan Declares for Publicity Both Before and After Elections.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Washington, Nov. 26.—A meeting of the Association for the Publicity of Campaign Contributions, called by Honorable Perry Belmont, was held today, the chief feature of which was a short address by W. J. Bryan. He was introduced by Mr. Belmont as "a man whose influence would be very great in securing the passage of a law providing for publicity of congressional campaign contributions at the coming session of Congress."

Mr. Bryan asserted that if the movement for publicity of campaign contributions did not take form through the Democratic members of Congress during the next session, it would take form in the next Democratic National Convention, providing he had anything to do with it. "Although the Democratic party is not in a position to draw its share of campaign funds at present," he said, "it has been in a position to do so before and will undoubtedly be in that position again when it makes the necessary promises. I hope that no party will yield to the temptation to sell legislation or immunity for contributions. There is no doubt that such has been done in the past."

Mr. Bryan contended that the publicity should be made before a campaign instead of after—but it could with benefit be done both before and after.

Mr. Bryan urged the association to collect all possible data in the line of State legislation, and also the history of attempts in Congress to pass the law, and lay it before the people.

Some Senators or members would gladly defeat the passage of a publicity bill," he said, "if not called upon to stand for or against it. It makes a difference about roll call."

A resolution was adopted urging Congress to enact the proposed publicity law.

TRAGEDY FOLLOWS ELOPEMENT

Jealous Young Man Shoots Woman and Himself.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Cleveland, O., Nov. 26.—Mrs. Ida Wolker, twenty-two years old, was shot three times today by Herbert Freund and was probably fatally wounded. Freund, who is but 20 years of age, then fired two shots at himself. He will recover. Recently the couple eloped from Lehighton, Pa., where Mrs. Wolker deserted a husband and two children. She and Freund were living here as Mr. and Mrs. Freund. Jealousy on the part of Freund lead to the shooting. Preceding the attempted murder and suicide Mrs. Wolker said she was taunting Freund about his jealous disposition.

WARM WIRELETS.

In New York yesterday S. M. Felton president of the Chicago and Alton Railroad Company, was elected president of the Mexican Central Railway. Mr. Felton said after his election that he will soon resign as head of the Chicago and Alton system.

Three train men were killed and a boy who was stealing a ride was perhaps fatally injured in a rear-end collision between two freight trains on the Richmond branch of the Philadelphia and Reading railway in the Northeastern part of Philadelphia yesterday. The dead all lived in Allentown, Pa.

Veteran Edward Paysor Weston, who is walking from Portland, Me., to Chicago, reached the southern limits of Chicago last night shortly after 11 o'clock. He yet has seven miles to walk into the city and expects to reach his destination by 2 o'clock this morning. By doing this he will lower his record of 40 years ago by 24 hours.

Worried over the belief that he had lost his $20,000 deposit in the Knickerbocker Trust Company, Valentine Hayerdahl, of Mount Vernon, a New York suburb, committed suicide yesterday by shooting himself through the head at his home. Hayerdahl, who was a salesman for a China company, resigned a short time ago to go into business. All that he owned was tied up in the trust company.

John C. McLemore, aged 21, a young man employed by the Southern Railway at Charleston, S. C., was fatally injured there yesterday while demonstrating how a suicide wound is inflicted. He placed a pistol to his head, and saying jokingly "this is the way they do it," pulled the trigger. A report followed and McLemore fell to the ground with a bullet in his brain.

—Raleigh News and Observer, Nov. 25.—Mr. Charles French Toms, of Hendersonville, is in the city to argue an important case before the Supreme Court, which is hearing appeals from the fourteenth judicial district this week. The case is Holstein vs. Phillips and Sims, involving the loss of diamonds stolen from a hotel. Mr. Toms was a member of the State Senate at the session of 1905, and at that time a considerable discussion was provoked throughout the State by bills he introduced to protect ginseng and the growers of that princely root. Mr. Toms is perhaps the largest grower of ginseng in the Southern States, and now has between one and two acres of it. He sold the ginseng from a piece of ground 67 by 50 feet during the past year for $980 cash, and it is doubtful if another piece of ground of the same size in North Carolina ever produced so valuable a crop. Nearly all ginseng is shipped to China, where it is used by the Chinese for medicine. Mr. Toms stated that he has calls frequently in this country from Chinamen for ginseng. He expects to plant it on a much larger scale in the coming year. The price ranges from $6.00 to $10.00 per pound for the root. Capt. M. C. Toms, of Henderson county, father of Mr. C. F. Toms, who was a member of the Senate of 1889, is engaged in this industry also. Messrs. Toms are also engaged in the raising of fruit in Henderson county, that being one of the best apple counties in North Carolina. They have about 6,000 splendid trees, which are situated so high on the mountains that they are seldom affected by frost.

THE REAL TEST

Of Herpicide Is In Giving It a Thorough Trial.

There is only one test by which to judge of the efficiency of any article and that is by its ability to do that which it is intended to do. Many hair tonics may look nice and smell nice, but the point is—do they eradicate Dandruff and stop falling hair?

No, they do not, but Herpicide does, because it goes to the root of the evil and kills the germ that attacks the papilla from whence the hair gets its life.

Letters from prominent people everywhere are daily proving that Newbro's Herpicide stands the "test of use."

It is a delightful dressing, clear, pure and free from oil or grease.

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

BELLE of VIRGINIA
BLENDED RYE

Belle of Virginia Rye deserves its name, and the name is certainly one of distinction and old-time aristocracy. It's a whiskey we are proud of on account of its purity and high quality and its hosts of admiring friends who will drink nothing else. Belle of Virginia is a blend—a scientific, uniform blend of pure, old goods. It's a whiskey with a flavor, and a fine, invigorating after-effect long to be remembered by those who drink it. Try it and you will make no mistake.

Sold at the places where gentlemen go to get a drink.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE

—Murphy Scout: Recently while prospecting on the Welch property near Marble, Col. F. P. Axley, of our town, unearthed a vein of pure white talc that had never before been discovered. The vein is 18 feet wide and he quit after going down six feet without going through it.

—Asheville, Nov. 25.—A new city directory for Asheville has just been issued by the Piedmont Directory Company of this city. The directory gives the total population of the city at 26,755, a considerable increase over the population given by the census of two years ago.

—Sanford Express: It seems that the money panic in New York has not stopped work on the power plant at Buckhorn Falls, as it has same other power plants in the State. The Phoenix Construction Company is determined to complete and have the plant in operation by the first of the coming year despite the fact that it has to pay a very high rate of interest for money to carry on the work.

—Fayetteville, Nov. 25.—The walls of the opera house of the LaFayette Auditorium Company, corner of Person and Dick streets, are rising fast, and Mr. John Underwood, head of the company, is pushing the work with a rush. Always progressive and public-spirited, Mr. Underwood and his company will be real benefactors to the community in building this opera house, for no town has needed one more.

Spencer, Nov. 25.—A report coming from semi-official source gained circualtion in Spencer last night that the Southern Railway shops are to be greatly enlarged at this place in the near future. Among the improvements which it is said will be made at once is the erection of a modern and commodious roundhouse and the building of a handsome new passenger station. The enlargement is made necessary by the heavy demands constantly made upon the shops at Spencer.

—Lexington, Nov. 25.—Haynes Everhart was accidentally killed three miles from town Saturday afternoon. He and his first cousin, Robert Everhart were out hunting. After being out several hours the two came upon a covey of birds, Haynes behind his cousin Robert. The birds were flushed and Robert started to shoot when his gun was discharged accidentally and the load found lodgement in the head of Haynes, blowing the back part of his head completely away. Robert Everhart is prostrated over the terrible accident. Haynes was only about 41 and his cousin somewhere near the same age. Haynes Everhart was the son of Tom Everhart, a well-known and wealthy farmer of this county. He lives only a short distance from town.

—Washington, N. C., Nov. 25.—It is rumored in this city on very good authority that the Washington Investment Company, a local corporation, will in the near future commence the construction of a motor car line extending from the heart of the city to Washington Heights, a residential suburb of this city owned by this company, and from there on to Cow Head Mineral Springs and on to the town of Williamson. The company hopes to have this line completed and in operation within a few months. Quite a number of prominent business men are interested in the scheme, and this alone assures the certainty of the project. This line will prove quite a convenience as well, bringing Washington Heights into prominence and will also encourage the building of hotels, parks, etc., at Cow Head Mineral Spring for a summer resort.

—Laurenburg, Nov. 25.—Eearly yesterday morning a colored man by the name of Nathan McRae, was found lying on a guy wire of the city light plant dead. The coroner was sent for and with his jury spent nearly the whole day investigating the affair, and finally rendered a verdict to the effect that he died from causes unknown. There were no signs of violence on his body except a few places on his side and back that had the appearance of having been scalded. Foul play had been strongly suspected. However, last night when the plant started up the tester revealed the fact that the guy wire had something over 100 volts of electricity on it. The wire was cut out at once and will not be replaced until it can be learned certainly what caused the break. It is freely rumored that the negro's people will have suit brought against the town for damages. Circumstances point strongly that way.

—Raleigh News and Observer, Nov. 25.—A fall of thirty feet to the ground from a telegraph pole would ordinarily mean either death of a severe injury, but Mr. P. B. Hubabrd, a lineman of the Raleigh Electric Company, had the fall and escaped with only a few minor injuries. He was some thirty feet up on a telephone pole yesterday morning at the corner of Blount and Cabarrus streets, when the pole broke at the ground and came toppling over with him. Pole and man came to the ground, and Mr. Hubbard was onl bruised and shaken up. In the fall the pole brought down with it a fire alarm box. He was taken to Rex Hospital, where his bruises were dressed and his injuries cared for, these consisting largely of cuts and scratches on the face and hands. At the hospital it was stated that the injuries were slight, and it is expected that he will be able to resume work in a day or so.

need attention, and should have the gently curative assistance of that well-known woman's medicine, Cardui, if you wish to become thoroughly healthy.

The ingredients of which Cardui is composed, have a specific influence over the womanly organs and build up the womanly strength.

They are purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, and act in a scientific manner on woman's vital energies, giving strength and renewed life-force.

Mrs. Annie Hamilton, of Stetsonville, Wis., writes: "As a result of long-continued womanly troubles, I could not sleep, eat, or stand on my feet, without suffering most terrible distress. The doctor said I was in a critical condition and going down hill. I could not work and kept getting worse all the time. At last, I took Cardui and in two days time I was a different woman. Now I eat good, work good and feel better than I ever did before, in all my life."

THE COTTON MARKET

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, Nov. 26.—The cotton market had quite a sharp advance today with the close steady at a net gain of 9 to 18 points. Sales for day were estimated at 300,000. The market opened steady at a decline of 2 points to an advance of two points and in spite of rather better cables and big English spot sales sold off to a net decline of 5 to 6 points during the early session under realizing or liquidation in the absence of bull support. At the decline, however, there was a better demand and in the early afternoon the market became active and firm with prices working up to a net gain of 25 to 27 points on the active months, as a result of Wall Street bull support and covering by local shorts, who were probably influenced by bullish private estimates of the crop. Later the market lost several points under realizing but there was a fairly good undertone at the close. Members of the cotton exchange estimate the crop at figures ranging from 10,750,000 to 13,200,000 bales, the average being 11,773,000 bales which would tend to show that the local trade is looking for a crop under 12,000,000 bales. The advance during the middle session was probably helped by the light interior movement which would suggest firmness on the part of holders.

Receipts at the ports today 67,025 bales against 351,533 last week and 613 last year. For the week 350,000 bales against 351,5333 last week and 402,138 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans 18,736 bales against 17,846 last year.

Spot cotton closed steady, 20 points higher; middling uplands 11.40; middling gulf 11.65; sales 622 bales.

DRY GOODS MARKET.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, Nov. 26.—The dry goods market holds very quiet. Jobbers are doing little in the way of future business and spot trade is confined to small lines. Exporters believe export trade will be better with them next year in consequence of better prices now offered. The cotton yarn market is in a state of demoralization. The lining trade is quiet but salesmen are to be sent on the road in another week by some of the large houses.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

New York, Nov. 26.—There were none of the signs of selling out of collateral loans in today's stock market, such as has been the depressing influence at intervals for some time past. Free from this influence, the scarcity of the market's supply of stocks again became manifest and prices advanced easily on a small demand. The advance in prices did not bring out increased offerings, but the scanty demand became even lighter, leaving the market in a condition of extreme dullnes in some of the later stages. A feature of the day was the growing ease of the call money market, largely due to the small demand for loans at the stock exchange. The approach of the end of the month leaves open a probability of a temporary hardening of money rates to meet the large requirements of that period. The interest and dividend payments for December still show an aggregate far in excess of previous years, arguing the continued high rate of the distribution of profits. The most of the call loan market did not bring corresponding increase in the demand for commercial paper for which there is yet practically no market.

The refusal to take commercial paper by the small interior banks is charged by the New York dealers to be an accompaniment of a piling up of cash holdings to the point of surfeit.

The day's most important development was the favorable light thrown on the affairs of the western banking insttution which has been the subject of suspicion in the recent past, but which is now understood to be insured combined protection by pledged support of the banks of several of the great money centers, including New York. Sales of currency were of only a few thousand dollars, mostly in bills of the smallest denomination supposed to be for pay roll purposes. The rates paid for foreign exchange were lower and the day's engagements of gold abroad were light. The private rate of discount declined in London which was taken to reflect the belief that our demands for gold are coming to a limit. Stocks retained the full day's gains to the closing.

Bonds were irregular. Total sales, par value $2,548,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call. Total sales of stocks today were 454,200 shares.

FINANCIAL MARKET.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, Nov. 26.—Money on call lower 3 1-2 per cent.; ruling rate about 6; closing and offered at 2 per cent. Time loans firm, sixty days 15 per cent.; and ninety days 12 per cent. Six months 7 1-2 per cent. Prime mercantile paper nominally 8 to 10 per cent. Sterling exchange easier with actual business in bankers bills at 4.8680 to 4.8685 for demand and at 4.7875 to 4.7925 for sixty day bills. Commercial bills 4.76 to 4.7650; bar silves 57 5-8; Mexican dollars 46.

DRAMATIC SCENES IN BRADLEY TRIAL

Alienist Declared That Woman Was Insane When She Killed Senator Brown.

GREAT WRONG CRAZED HER

Court Had to Rebuke Dr. Evans for Denouncing Murdered Senator. Son of Victim and Mrs. Bradley Witnesses.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Washington, Nov. 26.—Dramatic scenes marked the proceedings today in the trial of Mrs. Anna M. Bradley, charged with having killed former Senator Arthur M. Brown, of Utah, in this city last December. Dr. Britton D. Evans, of New York, the alieniest who testified in the case, not only declared that Mrs. Bradley was insane when she shot Senator Brown but entered with such vigor in defending his opinion and denunciating the conduct of the dead Senator that Justice Stafford reminded the witness that the late Senator Brown was not on trial and was not there to defend himself, and admonished him to refer to the dead man only when necessary to show the effect of his acts upon the mind of the defendant.

Dr. Evans recital of the reasons which led him to reach his conclusion was dramatic in the extreme. He spoke with a feeling of the utmost sympathy for the defendant. A deathlike silence pervaded the court, his remarks being uttered in such a way as to appeal to the emotions of all present. He spoke of the hereditary taint in Mrs. Bradley's family; the blow on her head when a child; her attack of smallpox and pneumonia; her unhappy life; the dominion of Senator Brown over her, and finally his complete possession of her. Referring to the several abortions which Mrs. Bradley had undergone, Dr. Evans speaking of Brown, said:

"And then after all this, that man, by his own hand destroyed the child he had begotten, poisoning the circulation of this woman, or introducing germs of infection into the body of the woman he had sworn to love, protect and care for."

The appearance on the stand of Max Brown, son of the dead Senator, who was recalled in rebuttal, was affecting in the extreme. The young man, tall, slender and fragile of physique, tottered as he made his way to the witness stand. He carefully avoided looking toward the defendant who sat within ten feet of him. When he told of seeing his father and Mrs. Bradley in the kitchen of their home, with jars of fruit they had brought from the cellar at a time when his mother had been called away from the city to the bedside of her dying sister, the defendant laughed and lowered her head in confusion. But there was no sign of merriment on the face of the witness, who replied briefly to all questions put to him and lowered his eyes during intervals in the giving of his testimony.

Dr. Charles Brill, professor of nervous and mental diseases in the Baltimore Medical College, declared that in his opinion Mrs. Bradley was insane when she did the shooting. The many abortions performed on her, her suffering and disappointment and her hereditary taint of insanity all combined to produce insanity in her. He thought she shot Senator Brown intentionally, but while believing that she was doing right in so doing.

A number of witnesses from Salt Lake, in addition to Max Brown, were introduced by the government in rebuttal, several of whom testified that Mrs. Bradley during their years of acquaintance with her appeared at all times rational and affable. It was brought out that Senator Brown had made a proposition to Mrs. Bradley to accept a $5,000 house and $100 a month until her youngest child would become 12 years of age, when she would leave Mrs. Brown, but she indignantly refused the offer, saying that she wanted to marry Brown in order that her children by him might be given a name.

During today's testimony, Mrs. Bradley wept and sobbed and in the forenoon session gave every indication that she was about to collapse. She, however, mustered such strength as she possessed and concluded the day's ordeal in fair condition.

The resting of the defense came in the nature of a surprise as it had been expected that the alienists would be kept on the stand for a much longer period.

MURDER OF MISS ELLA PRYOR.

Former Sweetheart Arrested on Strong Circumstantial Evidence.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Charlotte, N. C., Nov. 26.—Charged with the murder of Miss Ella Pryor, the 18-year-old girl, who was called to the door of her home near Huntersville and shot last night, Amzi Helms, a young white man, was arrested by a sheriff's posse tonight nine miles from Charlotte. Helms was an old sweetheart of the dead girl and the police, who claim they have sufficient circumstantial evidence to convict him, say they have fixed jealousy as the motive for the crime. Helms was covered with mud and bore other evidences of a hard journey afoot. He is the son of a well-to-do blacksmith of this city.

At Charleston, S. C., yesterday Judge Gage of the Circuit Court, appointed Frank I. O'Neil and Henry Brust receivers of the Hibernia Trust and Savings Bank. The bank was organized in 1864 and was capitalized at $30,000. No other banks are involved.

USED RAZOR AND KNIFE

Deposed President of Borough Bank of Brooklyn, N. Y., Is Released on Bail and Promptly Commits Suicide.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

New York, Nov. 26.—Howard Maxwell, deposed president of the Borough Bank of Brooklyn, who was under indictment for grand larceny and forgery and was last night released from jail on $30,000 bail, committed suicide today. He cut his throat and left wrist with a razor and penknife in the bath room of his home in Brooklyn and died tonight at Long Island College hospital. Maxwell who was locked up last Thursday had felt his humiliation keenly and during his incarceration had appeared hopelessly despondent. He had, however, given his family no intimation so far as known, that he contemplated suicide. His wife was prostrated by the tragedy.

Maxwell was released late last night from Raymond street jail where he had been held a prisoner since the three indictments charging him with misdoings in connection with the management of the suspended Borough Bank were returned. There was some difficulty in obtaining bail, and officers of the jail reported that Maxwell was greatly broken. All yesterday and the day before he lay on his bed and appeared to be oblivious to surroundings. Last night Justice Burr signed an order for Maxwell's release when bail to the amount of $30,000 was furnished.

Maxwell in company with his counsel, I. R. Oeland, was driven to his residence at 182 Congress street, where he was greeted by his wife. Maxwell spent this forenoon quietly at his home. This afternoon he announced his intention of taking a bath and going for a walk. Shortly before 2 o'clock Hannah Scott, a colored maid, heard a sound as if some one was falling on the second floor. She discovered the banker lying on the bathroom floor, half dressed, with gaping wounds in his throat and left wrist.

The banker was bleeding so profusely that it was decided to remove him to Long Island College Hospital, where an operation was performed. The wind-pipe was found to be nearly severed and his left wrist was cut almost to the bone. Maxwell died within a short time after the operation.

He left no statement so far as known. Coroner Brewer made the official investigation tonight. Maxwell was 49 years old and leaves a wife but no children. On November 21 he was jointly indicted for grand larceny with former Cashier Arthur Campbell and Director William Gowe, of the Borough Bank. There were other indictments against him involving forgery in a quarterly bank statement made to the State banking department. When these three men were arraigned Campbell and Gowe secured bondsmen, but none offered to go upon his bond. For some time only his four sisters, who offering the home left them by their mother, who died three days after the Borough Bank suspended could secure only a $10,000 bond, came to his aid. This desertion on the part of men to whom he had looked for his freedom, it is said, embittered and depressed Maxwell.

During his arraignment Maxwell's counsel stated that his client had put up every dollar in the world that he possessed to secure the bank and that he had absolutely stripped himself to protect the institution. His humaliation was aggravated, when, like a common felon, he was measured by the Bertillion system and his pedigree placed in the jail records.

Maxwell had been regarded as one of the rising financiers of Brooklyn and was reported to be worth $200,000 when the crash in banking affairs came.

Following so soon upon the suicide of Charles T. Barney, resigned president of the Knickerbocker Trust Company, today's suicide caused a sensation.

Shortly after he became a bank president, Maxwell married. When he became involved, Mrs. Maxwell signed with him all the release deeds to realty that stood in his name, and his suicide has left her penniless.

DEATH GRAPPLE WITH BURGLAR.

Prominent Business Man Killed In Presence of His Wife.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Kalamazoo, Mich., Nov. 26.—Horace S. Davis, aged 53, a prominent business man, was shot through the heart and killed by a burglar early today. Davis had grappled with the intruder when the latter threatened to kill Mrs. Davis.

Mrs. Davis was awakened first and when she uttered an exclamation upon seeing the intruder he pressed his revolver to her temple and commanded her to keep still or he would shoot. At this Mr. Davis jumped out of bed and wrestled with the burglar, the struggle taking them all over the room. Davis was getting the better of the man when the burglar fired twice, the first shot striking Davis on the wrist and the second passing through his heart, killing him instantly.

At the first shot Mrs. Davis rushed to her husband's assistance, grasping the burglar by the hair and retaining in her possession, when he fled his hat, gun, electric flash light and black cambric hood mask. Because the hat had been purchased at a local store the police are inclined to believe that the murderer is a Kalamazoo man. Mr. Davis was a 32nd degree Mason and was the local agent for John Wannamaker.

BRYAN SPEAKS TO DEMOCRATS

The United Democracy of The District of Columbia Listen Attentively.

BANQUET HALL CROWDED

President Roosevelt and His Policies Discussed—Some of His Political iVews Characterized as Democratic.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Washington, Nov. 26.—William J. Bryan was tonight tendered a banquet and recenption by "The United Democracy of the District of Columbia." Five hundred Democrats partook of the three dollar dinner and more than double that number participated in the reception and feast of oratory which followed. While the capacity of the Raleigh hotel banquet hall placed a coveted limit on the attendance, the "lid" was completely off as to enthusiasm, and the long speech of Mr. Bryan afforded opportunity for repeated and continued demonstrations of political accord and personal regard for the guests of honor.

Mr. Bryan utilized the occasion to set forth at length a closely reasoned analogy between the policies of President Roosevelt and those he believes should be adopted in the administration of the government. From this view point, Mr. Bryan's speech was regarded by the prominent Democrats who heard it, as a decidely important and timely party deliverance. Mr. Bryan's analysis of President Roosevelt's political views was unique. Four of the Roosevelt policies, he said, were Democratic, and four of them were undemocratic, while there were four other Democratic principles wihch the President did not advocate. Railroad regulation, the enforcement of the laws against the trusts, an income tax, and arbitration as the method of settling disputes between labor and capital, were all advocated by the President, Mr. Bryan said, but had been advocated by the Democratic party long before the President took them up. As to none of them, he maintained, did the President have the support of Republican party leaders.

The four Democratic doctrines the President will not endorse, the speaker gave as tariff reform, the election of Senators by direct vote, the promise of ultimate independence to the Filipino, and the restriction of the use of the injunction in labor disputes, which the President does advocate, Mr. Bryan named as being the national incorporation of railroads and other inter-state commerce corporations; the right of the Federal government to interfere by treaty with State rights, ship subsidies, and asset currency. Added to this, Mr. Bryan said the President had manifested a military spirit.

Before taking up the serious presentation of his subject, Mr. Bryan referred to some of the remarks made by preceeding speakers and apropos of Mr. Hagan's suggestion that Tammany Tigers would make better playthings than Teddy bears, he said that party emblems, as well as political toys, had their places and he spoke a word in defense of the Democratic donkey." "Donkey," he said, "is really a better emblem than the elephant for a party. He is not aristocratic. Whether you visit the mountains of the West, the densely populated regions of the Orient, the fertile valleys of the Nile or the sacred soil of the Holy Land, you will find the donkey—patient, persistent and always at work. The elephant, on the contrary is only to be found in certain latitudes, and is seldom seen except on dress parade. If greatness is to be measured by service, instead of by size or appearance, the position of honor must be given to the faithful donkey.

"I have been glad to commend the President where I could and have criticised him where it was necessary. If you ask me whether he is a Democrat, I must answer that it would be unfair to him and unfair to the Democratic party to call him a Democrat. If you ask me if he is Democratic, I answer after the manner of Peter Cartwright, the pioneer preacher of Illinois, who, when asked if he was sanctified, replied, Yes in Spots. The President is Democratic in spots, and while the spots are not as large as they ought to be or as numerous as I might wish them, a Democratic spot looks beautiful to me no matter upon whom I see it.

Mr. Bryan then took up his subject and proceeded to present the Democratic view and the Republican view of Government—Jefferson being the representative of those who view government from the standpoint of those who view the right and the capacity of the people to self government. He showed how this difference in the point of view accounted for the position taken by different people on questions relating to the methods of government. He insisted that the Democratic party looked at government from the Jeffersonian point of view, while the Republican leaders were more Hamiltonian, and leaned toward centralization. He next presented the Democratic and aristocratic view of society, saying that the Democrat regarded society as constructed from the bottom while the aristocrat thought it constructed from the top. "The Democrat," he said, "believed that if you will only legislate so that the people will be prosperous, their prosperity will be shared by the smaller classes that rest upon the people; the aristocrat believes that if you will only legislate to make the well-to-do prosperous, their prosperity will leak through on those below.

"Why do Republican leaders favor centralization? Because the great corporate interests want to get away from State legislation. The Democrat believes that the government should be kept as near the people as possible and want Federal remedies added to, not substituted for, State remedies.

"Why do Republican leaders prevent legislation amongst the trusts? Because they look at the question from the standpoint of the trust magnate, while the Democrats look at the question from the standpoint of the mililons who are victimized.

"Why do the Republicans favor high tariff laws, which tax eighty millions of the people for the benefit of a small fraction of the population? Because they look at the subject from the standpoint of the beneficiaries of protection, while the Democrats consider the rights and interests of the consumers.

"Why do the Republican leaders refuse to enace efficient laws for the regulation of the railroads? Because they look at the subject from the standpoint of the railway magnate, while the Democrats consider the interests of the patrons and the interest of the stockholders both of whom have reason to complain of the management of some other railway systems.

"Why is it that the Republican leaders are willing to continue the enormous expense of imperialism when it has brought nothing but danger and humiliation? Because the Republican leaders are considering the interests of a few who hope to secure Oriental trade, while the Democratic party considers both the rights of the Filipinos and thei nterests of the Democratic masses who pay the taxes and furnish the sons required for the military support of a colonial policy.

"As I said, the difference in the point of view will explain the difference in the remedies proposed to relieve the present financial stringency. It came from speculation in Wall Street and Republican leaders have so tied the country to Wall Street that eighty millions of people must shiver when the Wall Street speculators get cold. The Republican remedies all provide that financiers shall be well paid for acting as guardians, while Democratic remedies look to the protection of the depositors and the business of the country.

"The time is ripe for a Democratic appeal to the Democratic sentiment of the country. There is no doubt that a large majority of the people are Democratic rather than aristocratic and that we have to do is to convince them who are really Democratic in sentiment that the Democratic party can be trusted to be democratic if entrusted with power. I believe that in the coming Congress our Democratic Senators and Representatives will prove themselves equal to the task imposed upon them and demonstrate the fidelity of the party to democratic principles. Then, with a united party we can face a divided opposition and enter the campaign with the assurance of a victory."

Bryan and Gompers Speak.

Washington, Nov. 26.—William Jennings Bryan and President Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor were the principal speakers at a great mass meeting of organized labor at convention hall in this city tonight. An audience of seven thousand persons crowded the hall to the limit.

WORK ON PANAMA CANAL

Isthmian Commission Makes Its Annual Report of Operations.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Washington, Nov. 26.—Full details of the work done on the Panama canal during the fiscal year 1907, with a showing of what has been accomplised since the project has been in American hands, are disclosed in the annual report of the Isthmian Canal Commission made public today.

There is no reference in the report to the proposition which has been brought forward to extend the width of the locks to 110 feet so as to accommodate without difficulty the extreme breadth in the development of shipbuilding, and this will be made the subject of a special communication from the Commission. A strong position is taken favorable to a continuation of the policy of doing the work by hired instead of by contract labor, a step at one time seriously considered by the Administration.

Sanitation, upon which so much depends for the contract and health of the employes, is treated in the report; a statement is made of what has been done, and the declaration made that there was no yellow fever originating on the isthmus during the year.

A Hard Debt to Pay.

"I owe a debt of gratitude that can never be paid off," writes G. S. Clark, of Westfield, Iowa, "for the rescue from death, by Dr. King's New Discovery. Both lungs were so seriously affected that death seemed imminent, when I commenced taking New Discovery. The ominous dry, hacking cough quit before the first bottle was used, and two more bottles made a complete cure." Nothing has ever equaled New Discovery for coughs, colds and all throat and lnug complaints. Guaranteed by R. R. Bellamy, druggist. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Unfortunately the world does not ask "How did you get your money?" It's question is "Have you got it?"

When anybody agrees with you he has opinions; when he doesn't, delusions.

FITZHUGH LEE DAY.

Jamestown Exposition Officials May Erect a Monument.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 26.—This was observed as "Fitzhugh Lee Day" at the Jamestown Exposition with largely attended services in memory of the first president of the ter-centennial in the Auditorium. Joseph Bryan, of Richmond, presided and Major Robert W. Hunter, of Richmond, Va., delivered the oration. Major Hunter, who paid a great tribute to the memory of General Lee and his life works, suggested the fitting propriety of the erection of a monument to Fitzhugh Lee out of the assets of the exposition company, following a sale of its properties and the payment of its liabilities.

Admirals Schley and Harrington, of the navy; General Davis, of the Army, all the exposition officials and other notables attended the Lee memorial.

You could never make a girl think her parents do as much for her as the one who takes her to a matinee.

A Gift Worth While

The money spent for trinkets by the average family at Christmas time would buy an Edison Phonograph. The trinkets last about as long as Christmas does. The Edison Phonograph affords enjoyment day after day and year after year. The trinkets please only the individual recipients. The Edison Phonograph offers a continuous round of pleasure for the whole family.

It is the greatest music-maker of the age. It brings into the home circle all of the world's music, rendering with wonderful faithfulness whatever song, instrumental piece, or orchestral selection is desired.
